The Board of Pardons.

A remarkable argument against maintaining the integrity of the board of pardons is presented in the statement that the supreme court of the state has fiself reversed the decision of a unanimous jury and, therefore, a jury is not infallible.

We are very ready to grant that proposition. Juries and jurors are human. It is possible for a jury to be wrong. But what all that has to do with the principal theaters in the larger cities, coming directly to the Breed theater from the Premier theater, Boston.

As a feature picture of the week the excellent Biograph picture Was Justice Served? will be shown. This is a wonderful story, showing what might result from circumstantial evidence, and is enacted by the same force of successful actors that is so popular at the Breed.

Another wonderful Pathe Film D'Art entitled Grandfather will also be seen this week, this time the principal characters being portrayed by M. Ravet

Several business people, mostly from Norwich, but quite a few of them from Westerly and intermediate places, occupled the comfortable seats in the cool rustic theater at Lincoln park yesterday afternoon and heard with much enjoyment the fourth in the series of free concerts that are to be given every Sunday afternoon until the meason ends in September. All the numbers were finely given and the pro-gramme, like that of preceding Sun-days, was satisfactory to everybody. days, was satisfactory to everybody.

People who like a jolly minstret troupe—and pretty nearly everybody does like one—will hear a treat at the rustic theater all this week, when the william Josh Daly singers, fresh from a very successful engagement at Wildwood park, Dayville, appear in their trusts to create multimilitionaires by the Roseberry and countrusts. a very successful engagement at Wildwood park, Dayville appear in their bright and diverting programme their bright and diverting programme perverti of solos, duets, quartettes and chor-

Flying in Boston.

News comes from Boston that the Aero club of New England has entered into negotiations for the purchase of an aeropiane to be delivered next year. The announcement is significant, as it means that within a year or two experimental flights with aeropianes will be made all over the country.—Springfield Republican.

In Georgia.

No wonder the people of Georgia are always able to tell exactly what is what at the state capital. The Atlanta Constitution has discovered that Mr. Hoke Smith has left the treasury emp-by, while the Atlanta Journal has dis-covered that he has left a handsome samplus therein.—Washington Herald.

Careless Pionickers. There have been some serious forest fires on Cape Cod of late and the blame for their origin is laid on the carelessness of campers and picnickers. ### WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

Judge Robertson. The Bridgeport Post remarks that seldom is the unsuitability of a can-lidate for public office so clearly proven by his own word of mouth as as been the case in reference to Judge A. Heaton Robertson, former demo-ratic candidate for governor, who is noted as having said recently. "Public tilities, commission?. Connecticut utilities commission? Connecticut doesn't need any; its public service corporations are all too well managed," —Ansonia Sentine).

Judge Robertson spoke as a private sitizen, not as a candidate for public. He stated an honest opinion based on an experience of some years as leading directors of public service corporations.

It may be said that his opinion is not without prejudice, which is undoubtedly true, but it is an opinion not less honest for all that.

FOETRY.

O, DON'T BE SORROWFUL, DARLING. O, don't be sorrowful, darling;
Now, don't be sorrowful, pray;
For, taking the year together, my dear,
here lan't more night than day.
It's rainy weather, my loved one;
Time's wheels they heavily run;
But taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more cloud than sun.

We're old folks now, companion—
Our heads they are growing gray;
But taking the year all round, my dair,
You always will find the May.
We've had our May, my darling.
And our roses long ago;
And the time of the year is come, my
dear,
For the long, dark nights and the snow.

But God is God, my faithful,
Of night as well as day;
And we feel and know that we can go
Wherever He leads the way.
Aye, God of night, my darling.
Of the night of death so grim;
And the fate that from life leads out, good wife.
Is the gate that leads to Him.

Is the gate that leads to Him.

ODE ON A GRECIAN URN. Heard melodies are sweet, but those

Heard melodies are sweet, but those unheard
Are sweeter; therefore, ye soft pipes, play on,
Not to the sensual ear, but, more endeared,
Pipe to the spirit dittles of no tone;
Pair youth, beneath the trees, thoy canst not leave
Thy song, nor ever can those trees be bare.
Bold lover, never, never canst thou kiss.
Though winning near the goal—yet denot grieve;
She cannot fade, though thou hast not the politics.
Forever wilt thou love, and she be fair!

Ah! happy, happy boughs! that cannot shed

Your leaves, nor ever bid the spring
adjeu;
And happy melodist, unwearied,
Forever piping songs forever new;
More happy love; more happy, happy,
love! Forever warm and still to be en-loyed. Forever panting and forever young; human passion far ahove.
That leaves a heart high sorrowful and cloyed,
A burning forehead, and a parching tongue.
